

SESSION DESCRIPTIONS

Tuesday, May 12, 2026

100 SERIES OPENING KEYNOTE: 9:15 AM – 10:20 AM

100: This is Day One: Creating Cultures of Leadership (Plenary Session)

“How many of you are completely comfortable with calling yourself a leader?”

Leadership author and educator Drew Dudley has asked that question to thousands of audiences around the world, and in fewer than 1% of those audiences were the majority of people willing to call themselves leaders. That’s a problem, and this session will focus on how to solve it.

In this engaging and empowering keynote, Drew aims to demonstrate that there is a form of leadership to which we should all aspire – one that is driven by a daily commitment to acting on six key leadership values: impact, courage, growth, empowerment, class, and self-respect.

Drew will provide six simple questions that comprise “The Leadership Test,” and while the questions may be simple, the behavioral changes they generate build better careers, stronger organizations, and more fulfilling lives. A commitment to passing “The Leadership Test” turns those six values into more than just words, and changes how you treat yourself and the people around you.

Sharing stories from small town Canada to the deserts of Qatar, and insights from leaders of all types – CEOs, elite athletes, cab drivers, custodians, and everyone in between – this presentation will change the way you think about leadership in your life and workplace.

Keynote Speaker: Drew Dudley (Day One Leadership)

200 SERIES BREAKOUT SESSIONS: 10:55 AM – 12:10 PM

201: Bouncing Back from Outdated IV-D Contract Practices (Fiscal Track)

Navigating current federal funding requires perseverance and resilience. Changing IV-D contracts can affect the services your program provides and the funding your partners receive. Discussing IV-D contracts early and often can help avoid political issues later. Learn how the Office of Child Support is recovering from old IV-D contract practices, what that means for your agency, and how you can help make Ohio's IV-D program more cost effective.

Intended Audience: General Interest, Intermediate

Presented By: Jason Frisbee (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services, Office of Child Support), Beth Anne Schorr, Esq. (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services, Office of Child Support)

202: Building Resilient Operations with Technology (Public Assistance Track)

Resilience is built when systems do more of the work for you. This session highlights technology capabilities that help reduce call volume, prevent churn, and keep cases moving when demand is high.

We'll showcase how tools like outbound dialing and real-time document upload support proactive outreach, faster verifications, and fewer repeat contacts. Attendees will see how these technologies work together to stabilize workloads, improve customer response, and help system users stay effective during peak periods.

Intended Audience: General Interest, Intermediate

Presented By: Christina Rose (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services)

203: Rapid Response Emergency Assistance Funds (RREAF) Grant for Layoff Closure (Workforce Track)

This session will review the Rapid Response Emergency Assistance Funds (RREAF) Grant for layoff closure as a supplemental funding source.

We'll cover:

- The purpose of the RREAF grant
- How formula funds factor into the process
- Services are available for impacted workers
- How to determine the maximum allowable RREAF funds to request
- A "Before You Pick Up an Application" checklist
- A walkthrough of the JFS 18126 RREAF application
- Timeframes and deliverables if approved

Intended Audience: Introductory, Intermediate

Presented By: Heidi Quirion (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services), Breeyn Tarr (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services)

204: Talent: Keeping it Human in an AI World (Human Resources Track)

As automation and artificial intelligence reshape recruiting, hiring, and workforce management, the human element remains the most critical—and most vulnerable—piece of the talent equation. This session explores how organizations can leverage AI tools for efficiency and scale while protecting the relationship-building, cultural fit assessment, and personalized communication that make great hiring decisions possible.

Attendees will learn practical strategies for balancing speed with intentionality, leveraging technology to enhance—not replace—human judgment, and ensuring candidates still feel valued, heard, and understood throughout the hiring process. We'll address real-world pain points, including maintaining authentic outreach, avoiding "robotic" candidate experiences, and building teams that thrive on trust and connection in an increasingly automated landscape.

Intended Audience: General Interest, Intermediate

Presented By: Noah Berkheimer (Beneficial Talent Source)

205: Choice By Design: The Next Generation MyCare Experience (Medicaid Track)

This session will provide an overview of the Next Generation MyCare Ohio program and MyCare waiver, describe how care management works in the MyCare program, explain MyCare plan enrollment and enrollment change, and provide an overview of member empowerment programs Self-Direction, which puts the member in control of their home and community-based services (HCBS) care providers, and HOME Choice which can help members to return to live successful, quality lives in the community.

Intended Audience: Introductory

Presented By: Bob Feller (Ohio Department of Medicaid), Tracy Hayes (Ohio Department of Medicaid), Jennifer Landau (Ohio Department of Medicaid), Brandi Nicholson (Ohio Department of Medicaid), Vanessa Tucker (Ohio Department of Medicaid)

206: Resiliency by Design: Building Sensory Inclusive Locations That Thrive (Competency & Professional Development Track)

Resiliency isn't just about bouncing back, it's about building environments where everyone can participate, regulate, and thrive. This interactive session will explore how sensory inclusion strengthens individuals, organizations, and entire communities. Participants will learn practical tools, hear real world impact stories, and leave with actionable steps to create more resilient, inclusive spaces.

Intended Audience: General Interest, Introductory

Presented By: Joy Palmer (KultureCity)

207: The Resilience Toolkit: Policy Updates & Provider Visit Power Moves (DCY/Child Care Track)

Every challenge is a chance to grow! This session arms you with the latest child care policy updates and practical tips for provider visits that reinforce integrity and resilience. Walk away ready to lead with strength and flexibility.

Intended Audience: Intermediate

Presented By: Heather Eland (Ohio Department of Children and Youth), Lisa Miller (Ohio Department of Children and Youth), Kathy Muehlbauer (Ohio Department of Children and Youth)

208: Resilient Teams: Strengthening Culture in Times of Change (Management & Supervision Track)

This interactive session explores how workplace culture and team climate influence resilience, engagement, and performance.

Participants will learn practical tools to strengthen communication, build trust, and create a more supportive environment during times of change. Through reflection and discussion, participants will identify small, actionable shifts that improve team culture and help employees navigate challenges with greater clarity and confidence.

Intended Audience: General Interest, Experienced

Presented By: Sonya Wallace (Provision Consulting LLC)

209: Resilient Futures: Collaborative Approaches to Empower OWF and CCMEP Populations (Workforce, Public Assistance Tracks)

Discover innovative, collaborative strategies to strengthen resilience and empower Ohio Works First (OWF) and Comprehensive Case Management and Employment Program (CCMEP) participants. This interactive session will highlight best practices, share real-world insights, and explore tools to help practitioners effectively support individuals on their path to self-sufficiency and success.

Intended Audience: General Interest

Presented By: Amber Jenkins (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services, Office of Workforce Development, CCMEP), Hannah Knies (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services, Office of Family Assistance), Cara Lee (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services, Office of Family Assistance), Megan Sullivan (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services, Office of Workforce Development, CCMEP)

210: Using AI Responsibly: A Decision-Making Framework for Public Sector Leaders (General Track)

Public sector leaders face competing pressures: adopting AI innovation while protecting data, security, and public trust. This session provides a practical framework for making responsible AI decisions—focusing on the leadership thinking that guides safe adoption across any tool.

You'll learn:

- How modern AI actually works in plain language
- A practical four-part framework for evaluating any AI tool safely
- Common data and security risks in public sector use
- Critical questions to ask before approving AI tools for your teams
- How to establish clear usage rules and responsible AI policies
- Real-world examples of safe adoption and common mistakes

Intended Audience: Introductory

303: WIOA Data Entry's Impact on Performance Reporting and Data Validation (Workforce Track)

This session will highlight key WIOA data entries in ARIES that drive alignment and support positive performance outcomes. We will also review common data validation findings – often missed opportunities for accurate data entry. The session will conclude with an overview of CFIS and its key features that support local area fiscal responsibility and reporting.

Intended Audience: Intermediate, Experienced

Presented By: Mark Anderson (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services), Emily Ostrander (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services), Vonda Rowe (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services)

304: Civility in the Workplace (Human Resources Track)

Creating and maintaining a culture of civility in the workplace can improve employee morale, increase productivity, and strengthen recruitment and retention efforts. This session will explore the importance of a civil workplace environment and strategies to ensure employees actively foster and sustain it.

Intended Audience: Intermediate, Experienced

Presented By: Amanda Riess (Clemans, Nelson & Associates, Inc.)

305: Medicaid Community Engagement Activities (MCEA) and You (Medicaid, Workforce Tracks)

Learn about MCEA requirements, the current status of the implementation plan, important upcoming dates, and how these requirements may impact your work with Medicaid individuals. This presentation will include FAQs and time for attendees to ask their own questions.

Note: This session is not systems-related and will not include information or guidance on Ohio Benefits.

Intended Audience: General Interest

Presented By: Mary Burns (Ohio Department of Medicaid)

306: Building Resilience Through Emotional Intelligence: Developing Your EI Superpower (Competency & Professional Development Track)

In today's high-demand human services environment, resilience is not just a personal trait—it's a learnable capability. Emotional Intelligence (EI) is the superpower that allows leaders and frontline professionals alike to navigate stress, manage emotions, and remain effective in the face of constant change and complexity.

This interactive session explores how EI functions as a practical workplace superpower, strengthening resilience at both the individual and team levels. Participants will learn how to recognize emotional triggers, regulate responses under pressure, and intentionally choose behaviors that support well-being, sound decision-making, and positive relationships.

Through real-world examples drawn from job and family services work, brief self-reflection activities, and actionable tools, attendees will begin developing their EI superpower—one that helps them stay grounded, adaptable, and engaged while continuing to serve their communities with purpose and professionalism.

Participants will leave with:

- A clear understanding of how EI fuels resilience
- Practical strategies to activate their EI superpower during stressful moments
- Simple techniques they can apply immediately with staff, colleagues, and clients

Intended Audience: General Interest, Introductory

Presented By: James A. White Sr. (Performance Consulting Services)

307: Early Care & Education Services: Bridging the Gap between Ohio Benefits and TAP (DCY/Child Care Track)

This session will explore eligibility and authorization best practices in the Ohio Benefits platform for the Ohio Department of Children and Youth's (DCY) Early Care and Education Services (EC&ES). Attendees will learn how Ohio Benefits communicates with the Time Attendance and Payment (TAP) system, how their actions can enhance service delivery, and how to approach EC&ES authorizations from a multisystem perspective.

Intended Audience: Introductory, Intermediate

Presented By: April Crawford (Ohio Department of Children and Youth), Lindsey Harris (Ohio Department of Children and Youth), Jordan Kochert (Ohio Department of Children and Youth), Morgan Neal (Ohio Department of Children and Youth)

308: More Than Words: Defining the Things that Define Leaders (Competency & Professional Development Track)

CLOSED SESSION for Executive Directors of Member Agencies Only

“Integrity”, “Honesty”, “Respect”, “Accountability” – how would you explain what these words mean to someone who had never heard them before?

Building on Drew's keynote presentation, this highly interactive session will ask you to engage in a deeper, collective examination of the values we use to evaluate leaders, both ourselves and others. After all, there's little doubt we judge others swiftly (and often harshly) if they don't live up to the values we generally associate with leaders. But when was the last time you really examined what the various “desirable leadership values” actually mean? This workshop will challenge you to do just that, and in the process, define the things we want to define us.

You'll have the opportunity to:

- Engage in a deeper, collective examination of the values you use to guide decision-making.
- Translate those values into everyday behaviors.
- Create action-driving questions to motivate the use of those behaviors.
- Strategize for some of the daily challenges that could stand in the way of behaving impactfully.

Note: Following receipt of their conference registration, Executive Directors of member agencies will be automatically enrolled in this facilitated, director-only session by association staff.

Presented By: Drew Dudley (Day One Leadership)

309: Keeping Kids Connected: Making Kinship Placements – and Their Support – a Critical Priority (DCY/Child Care Track)

Turns out that apple can fall far from the tree – research proves it! When children cannot safely remain at home, placing them with relatives or family friends helps minimize trauma, increase their sense of security, and maintain connections with the people they know and love. This session will explain why kinship care should be prioritized and highlight the supports available in Ohio to help kin caregivers succeed.

Intended Audience: General Interest, Intermediate

Presented By: Tara Shook (Ohio Department of Children and Youth)

310: Work Smarter with OneNote: From Setup to Everyday Use (General Track)

Learn how to set up and use Microsoft OneNote as your go-to tool for organizing information and managing tasks. In this instructor-led session, we'll walk through OneNote's core structure, essential features, and practical techniques for capturing ideas, organizing notes, and collaborating effectively.

Whether you're new to OneNote or want to use it more efficiently, this session will give you the skills and confidence to make OneNote your central hub for notes, planning, and productivity.

Presented By: Zach Kimmitt (Ohio Department of Medicaid)

606: Navigating the Trust Headwinds (Competency & Professional Development Track)

Sometimes we can do everything right to earn others' trust, yet people still struggle to trust us as we think we've earned. Bruce Hendrick helps demystify the dynamics of trust in this fun, practical, and memorable session.

We all face trust headwinds – let's work together to overcome them.

Intended Audience: General Interest

Presented By: Bruce Hendrick (Building Trust, LLC)

607: Leading with Yes! Practical Advice for Putting HR Policy into Practice (Human Resources Track)

Human Resources professionals are often seen as the department of “no” – enforcers of policy, gatekeepers of compliance, and bearers of hard messages. But what if leading with yes could strengthen accountability, build trust, and improve outcomes without sacrificing consistency or standards?

This interactive session challenges participants to rethink how they communicate, collaborate, and apply HR policy in real-world situations. Leading with Yes is not about blind agreement or avoiding difficult conversations; it's about approaching people and problems with openness, emotional intelligence, and a commitment to responsible trust.

Participants will explore what “leading with yes” truly means (and what it does not), examine how personal leadership styles influence workplace culture, and practice strategies for navigating common workplace challenges – from chronic attendance issues to resistance to change – while maintaining professionalism and policy integrity.

Through guided discussion, practical scenarios, and actionable tools, attendees will leave with:

- A clearer understanding of how communication style impacts employee relations and organizational culture
- Practical techniques for balancing empathy with accountability
- Tools to move conversations from “us vs. them” to “us vs. the problem”
- Strategies to apply HR policy consistently while still leading with humanity

This session is designed for HR professionals, supervisors, and agency leaders who want to strengthen relationships, improve morale, and put policy into practice in a way that works – for employees and the organization alike.

Intended Audience: Intermediate, Experienced

Presented By: Courtney Lower (Knox County Human Resources)

608: Human Trafficking: Closer to Home (Competency & Professional Development Track)

Human trafficking exists in our community but often goes unrecognized, particularly among youth. This session builds on Human Trafficking: The Reality and focuses on trafficking within families, including cases where a family member facilitates exploitation, sometimes linked to substance use, housing insecurity, or other vulnerabilities. We will explore how familial trafficking differs from other forms, identify signals that may warrant further inquiry, discuss trauma-informed ways to ask these questions, and review best practices for addressing familial trafficking both professionally and within the community.

Intended Audience: Intermediate, Experienced

Presented By: Christi Bartman (Eyes Up Appalachia)

609: APS in Ohio: What's Going On? (Adult Protective Services Track)

This session will provide state and federal updates on Ohio's Adult Protective Services (APS) program. The workshop will include discussion of federal regulations, Ohio Administrative Code Rules and APS practice, changes to the Ohio Database for Adult Protective Services (ODAPS), and a presentation on the newly developed Ohio APS Quality Assurance and Technical Assistance process.

Intended Audience: General Interest, Introductory

610: Turning Change Processing into Action: A 3-Part Training Series - Part 2 (Public Assistance Track)

This interactive series will give you the tools to confidently process, clarify, and act on reported changes—even when details are incomplete or unclear. Through practical examples and guided exercises, you'll learn to make informed decisions that keep cases moving smoothly. We'll also cover key policy and system updates effective April 1, 2026, ensuring you are fully equipped to apply the latest rules in your daily work.

Note: This is a repeat of the content provided in the in-person trainings held across Ohio in February and March 2026. Each session builds on the previous one; all three sessions must be taken together.

Intended Audience: Introductory, Intermediate

Presented By: Stacey Brown (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services), Jenny Couch (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services), Shawn Horner (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services)

700 SERIES BREAKOUT SESSIONS: 11:50 AM – 1:05 PM

701: Costs, Cost Allocation, and CFIS (Fiscal Track)

Calling all new(er) county fiscal staff! Join us to discuss cost allocation and why it's a foundational fiscal concept that can boost your expertise.

If you've ever asked yourself these questions, this session is for you:

- What does cost allocation mean?
- What costs are being allocated?
- What happens after you click the Allocate button in the CFIS Cost Allocation screen?
- What information needs to be entered into CFIS to allocate costs?

Intended Audience: Introductory, Intermediate

Presented By: Tatiana Robinson (Bureau of County Finance & Technical Assistance), Wes Shrider (Bureau of County Finance & Technical Assistance)

702: Managing ABAs: From Requirements to Regaining Eligibility (Public Assistance, Workforce Tracks)

Join us for an in-depth look at federal requirements for able-bodied adults (ABAs) in the SNAP program and what they mean for day-to-day operations. We'll review the rules, clarify work requirements, and discuss their impact on eligibility. You'll also learn how individuals can regain SNAP benefits after not meeting ABA work requirements, including the role of bonus months.

Intended Audience: Introductory, Intermediate

Presented By: Julie Paulus (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services), Katie Smith (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services)

703: Unemployment Insurance Updates (Workforce Track)

This session provides a comprehensive look at both macro-level trends and micro-level challenges impacting Unemployment Insurance (UI) operations. The goal is to equip local staff with insights to enhance interactions with claimants who often need additional support.

Key discussion areas include:

- Defining Meaningful Assistance: What does effective claimant support look like in practice? Explore strategies to ensure interactions are helpful, empathetic, and aligned with program goals.
- UI System Modernization: An update on the new UI system in development—where it's headed, anticipated improvements, and how changes will affect claimant experiences.
- Current Issues and Hot Topics: Insights from the field, including emerging challenges, common pain points, and potential strategies for resolution.
- Macro and Micro Perspectives: A blend of broader policy and economic factors with day-to-day operational realities to help staff contextualize claimant needs and provide informed assistance.

By the end of this session, participants will have a clearer understanding of the evolving UI landscape and practical approaches for delivering meaningful support.

Intended Audience: Introductory

Presented By: Deborah Welch (Ohio Department of Job and Family Services)

704: Built to Last: Supervisory Skills That Strengthen People and Performance (Human Resources, Management & Supervision Tracks)

Resilient organizations are built through skilled, effective supervision. This session equips leaders with a practical, real-world toolkit for managing performance from the first coaching conversation to final decisions. We'll explore how training, mentoring, corrective action, performance evaluations, improvement plans, and even difficult separations can be handled with clarity, consistency, and confidence.

Participants will leave with strategies to balance accountability and support, strengthen documentation and communication, and build teams that can withstand pressure without compromising standards. Supervision isn't about avoiding hard conversations – it's about leading through them effectively.

Intended Audience: General Interest

Presented By: Scott DeHart (Zashin and Rich Co., L.P.A.)

705: MPAP and Buy-In Battle (Medicaid Track)

Back by popular demand! Join the Ohio Department of Medicaid TA for our Jeopardy-style game to test your knowledge – and maybe win a prize! Attendees will be divided into two teams to answer questions on both MPAP and Buy-In, ranging from beginner to pro-level difficulty.

Intended Audience: Intermediate

Presented By: Brandie Black (Ohio Department of Medicaid), Shelly Evilsizor (Ohio Department of Medicaid)

706: Leading in Challenging Times: Building Resilience in Ourselves and Our Teams (Competency & Professional Development Track)

This interactive session explores resilience as a leadership practice that can be strengthened in oneself and fostered in others. Grounded in developmental neuroscience and trauma-informed principles, participants will examine why staff resilience is a critical leadership concern and how leaders can model emotional regulation in everyday interactions. Attendees will engage in reflection, practical exercises, and brief mindfulness practices. The session will conclude with the development of a personal resilience plan and strategies for building these skills within teams.

Intended Audience: Intermediate

Presented By: Kristin Torres Pierce (Columbus State Community College)

707: Leveraging Digital Tools for Workforce Engagement (General, Workforce Tracks)

In today's rapidly changing labor market, resilience means adapting outreach strategies to meet job seekers where they are and using technology to strengthen employer partnerships.

This session will demonstrate how text and email campaigns with Engage By Cell, Google Business Pages, and social media improve accessibility and show rates for hiring events and appointments. We will explore building a consistent brand voice across social platforms, applying analytics to guide decisions, and implementing time-saving workflows that overcome bottlenecks.

Attendees will learn how storytelling creates emotional connections, how video production and creative variations enhance engagement, and how AI tools can streamline content creation and branding projects. We will highlight strategies for promoting career pathways, improving performance through follow-up, and posting local job opportunities to build sustainable talent pipelines and empower communities for long-term success.

Intended Audience: General Interest, Intermediate

Presented By: Zach Ellsworth (OhioMeansJobs Allen County / Greater Ohio Workforce Board (Area 7))

708: Failing Fiercely: Nurturing Resilience and Determination (Management & Supervision Track)

What if failure wasn't something to fear – but something to leverage? In this high-energy breakout, successful administrator and leader Carrie (Sanchez) Kramer challenges traditional thinking about success, reframing failure as a catalyst for growth. Drawing from real leadership experiences, student stories, and proven practices, Carrie explores how leaders can intentionally create environments where staff take risks, recover from setbacks, and persist with purpose.

Participants will examine how leadership mindsets, office culture, and everyday responses to struggle either strengthen or stifle resilience. This session is honest, practical, and motivating – designed to help leaders move beyond “grit” as a buzzword and toward actionable strategies that empower staff to fail fiercely, learn boldly, and rise stronger.

Intended Audience: Intermediate, Experienced

Presented By: Carrie (Sanchez) Kramer (North Point Educational Service Center)

709: What's New in ODAPS: Enhancing Your User Experience (Adult Protective Services Track)

The ODAPS team will provide an overview of recent system enhancements, new worker training, and tips and tricks training videos. Time will also be allotted for a Q&A.
